

Ahmadi man brutally killed in Khanpur

Date : 9th May 2017

RAHIMYAR KHAN – Another religious extremism event reported, as a 62 years old Ahmadi man was shot dead in tehsil of Rahimyar Khan District on Wednesday night, the victim identified as Bashararat Ahmed.

The spokesman of Jamaat Ahmadiyya confirms the death of a man belongs to his community.

“Basharat Ahmed was on his way home from his petrol station when unknown gunmen shot him at close range and left him to die on a roadside,” Saleem ud Din said, as quoted by Samaa News.

The person who lost his life was a father of 3 children, and has a wife, according to spokesman this the third event of religious extremism reported in Punjab in 35 days.

Pakistan is suffering from the worst kind of religious extremism; there is a huge security risk for the minorities in Pakistan.

Although the government of Pakistan has taken serious action to over through this problem but there is dire need of more government pressure.

To read further, please click HERE.