

‘State-sponsored’ bigotry spurs persecution against Ahmadis

Date : 8th June 2018

Recent attacks against the Ahmadiyah community in East Lombok, West Nusa Tenggara (NTB), which forced more than two dozen Ahmadis to flee their homes, have been described by activists as a form of state-sponsored persecution.

A team comprising Nahdlatul Ulama’s (NU) youth wing GP Ansor, the Foundation of the Indonesian Legal Aid Institute (YLBHI) and the Ahmadiyah Indonesia Congregation

Read original article HERE.